FINAL ORDER

¶1 The appellant has filed a petition for review of the initial decision in this appeal. Petition for Review (PFR) File, Tab 1. For the reasons set forth below, we DISMISS the appeal as settled.

¶2 After the filing of the petition for review, the parties filed a joint motion to dismiss the appeal and attached a document entitled “SETTLEMENT

AGREEMENT,” which was fully executed on June 20, 2024. PFR File, Tab 10. The document provides, among other things, that it “resolves any and all claims, complaints or appeals which [the appellant] has, or could have, filed or initiated up to the date of this Agreement is fully executed, in any forum (including, but not limited to the [Equal Employment Opportunity Commission], the MSPB (to specifically include Board No. PH-0752-20-0002-I-1), and/or the District Court), in any way relating to his employment with the Postal Service.” Id. at 5.

¶3 The Board retains jurisdiction to enforce a settlement agreement if it has been entered into the record for that purpose. Delorme v. Department of the Interior, 124 M.S.P.R. 123, ¶¶ 16, 21 (2017). If the parties enter an agreement into the record and it is approved by the administrative judge, it will be enforceable by the Board unless the parties clearly specify that they do not want Board enforcement. Stewart v. U.S. Postal Service, 73 M.S.P.R. 104, 107-08 (1997); see 5 C.F.R. § 1201.41(c)(2)(i) (providing that a settlement agreement will be made a part of the record, and the Board will retain jurisdiction to ensure compliance, if the parties offer it for inclusion into the record and the judge approves it).

¶4 Here, we find that the parties have entered into a settlement agreement and understand its terms. PFR File, Tab 10 at 5-6. Additionally, although the agreement is silent concerning whether the parties intend for the Board to retain enforcement authority, nothing in the agreement clearly specifies that the parties do not wish for the Board to retain enforcement authority over the agreement. See Stewart, 73 M.S.P.R. at 107-08; 5 C.F.R. § 1201.41(c)(2)(i). Further, we find that the agreement is lawful on its face and freely entered into, and we accept the settlement agreement into the record for enforcement purposes. Accordingly, we find that dismissing the appeal with prejudice to refiling (i.e., the parties normally may not refile this appeal) is appropriate under these circumstances.

¶5 This is the final decision of the Merit Systems Protection Board in this appeal. Title 5 of the Code of Federal Regulations, section 1201.113 (5 C.F.R. § 1201.113).

NOTICE TO THE PARTIES OF THEIR ENFORCEMENT RIGHTS

If the agency or the appellant has not fully carried out the terms of the agreement, either party may ask the Board to enforce the settlement agreement by promptly filing a petition for enforcement with the office that issues the initial decision on this appeal. The petition should contain specific reasons why the petitioning party believes that the terms of the settlement agreement have not been fully carried out, and should include the dates and results of any communications between the parties. 5 C.F.R. § 1201.182(a).

(2) Judicial or EEOC review of cases involving a claim of discrimination. This option applies to you only if you have claimed that you were affected by an action that is appealable to the Board and that such action was based, in whole or in part, on unlawful discrimination. If so, you may obtain judicial review of this decision—including a disposition of your discrimination claims—by filing a civil action with an appropriate U.S. district court (not the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit), within 30 calendar days after you receive this decision. 5 U.S.C. § 7703(b)(2); see Perry v. Merit Systems Protection Board, 582 U.S. 420 (2017). If you have a representative in this case, and your representative receives this decision before you do, then you must file with the district court no later than 30 calendar days after your representative receives this decision. If the action involves a claim of discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, or a disabling condition, you may be entitled to representation by a court-appointed lawyer and to waiver of any requirement of prepayment of fees, costs, or other security. See 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-5(f) and 29 U.S.C. § 794a.

If so, and your judicial petition for review “raises no challenge to the Board’s disposition of allegations of a prohibited personnel practice described in section 2302(b) other than practices described in section 2302(b)(8), or 2302(b)(9)(A)(i), (B), (C), or (D),” then you may file a petition for judicial review either with the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or any court of appeals of competent jurisdiction.³ The court of appeals must receive your petition for review within 60 days of the date of issuance of this decision. 5 U.S.C. § 7703(b)(1)(B).

The All Circuit Review Act, signed into law by the President on July 7, 2018, permanently allows appellants to file petitions for judicial review of MSPB decisions in certain whistleblower reprisal cases with the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or any other circuit court of appeals of competent jurisdiction.
