MERIT SYSTEMS PROTECTION BOARD

ROBERT A. BIGGS,
Appellant,

DOCKET NUMBER
AT-3443-18-0340-I-1

v.

DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS AFFAIRS, Agency.

DATE: February 7, 2024

THIS FINAL ORDER IS NONPRECEDENTIAL¹

Robert A. Biggs, Tampa, Florida, pro se.

Barbara S. Patch, St. Petersburg, Florida, for the agency.

BEFORE

Cathy A. Harris, Vice Chairman
Raymond A. Limon, Member

FINAL ORDER

The appellant has filed a petition for review of the initial decision, which dismissed his individual right of action (IRA) appeal for lack of jurisdiction. The appellant argues that the Board has jurisdiction over his appeal because he has filed complaints with both the agency's Office of Accountability and Whistleblower Protection (OAWP) and the agency's Office of General Counsel

¹ A nonprecedential order is one that the Board has determined does not add significantly to the body of MSPB case law. Parties may cite nonprecedential orders, but such orders have no precedential value; the Board and administrative judges are not required to follow or distinguish them in any future decisions. In contrast, a precedential decision issued as an Opinion and Order has been identified by the Board as significantly contributing to the Board's case law. See 5 C.F.R. § 1201.117(c).

(OGC). Initial Appeal File (IAF), Tab 6 at 4; Petition for Review (PFR) File, Tab 1 at 4-7. Generally, we grant petitions such as this one only in the following circumstances: the initial decision contains erroneous findings of material fact; the initial decision is based on an erroneous interpretation of statute or regulation or the erroneous application of the law to the facts of the case; the administrative judge's rulings during either the course of the appeal or the initial decision were not consistent with required procedures or involved an abuse of discretion, and the resulting error affected the outcome of the case; or new and material evidence or legal argument is available that, despite the petitioner's due diligence, was not available when the record closed. Title 5 of the Code of Federal Regulations, section 1201.115 (5 C.F.R. § 1201.115). After fully considering the filings in this appeal, we conclude that the appellant has not established any basis under section 1201.115 for granting the petition for review. Therefore, we DENY the petition for review and AFFIRM the initial decision, which is now the Board's final decision. 5 C.F.R. § 1201.113(b).

As noted by the administrative judge, to establish Board jurisdiction over an IRA appeal, the appellant must show, among other things, that he has exhausted his administrative remedies before the Office of Special Counsel (OSC). IAF, Tab 5 at 2. As noted in the initial decision, there is nothing in the record to suggest that the appellant filed a complaint with OSC. IAF, Tab 7, Initial Decision at 3. The appellant's contentions that he filed complaints with OAWP are irrelevant for jurisdictional purposes. The Department of Veterans Affairs Accountability and Whistleblower Protection Act of 2017, Pub. L. No. 115-41, 131 Stat. 682, which established OAWP, does not relieve the appellant of his statutory obligation to exhaust his administrative remedies with OSC prior to filing an appeal with the Board. 5 U.S.C. §§ 1214(a)(3), 1221(a).

On review, the appellant provides documents from the agency's OGC related to an administrative tort claim; he has entitled these documents "proof of OGC contact first before MSPB." PFR File, Tab 1 at 1, 4-7. He has not shown these documents were unavailable prior to close of the record. See Avansino v. U.S. Postal Service, 3 M.S.P.R. 211, 214 (1980); 5 C.F.R. § 1201.115(d). In any event, the appellant confuses “OGC” with “OSC,” and thus, these documents are immaterial for purposes of establishing Board jurisdiction over this appeal. We find no reason to disturb the administrative judge’s determination that the appellant has failed to prove exhaustion of his administrative remedies before OSC, which is a statutory prerequisite for Board jurisdiction in IRA appeals. 5 U.S.C. §§ 1214(a)(3), 1221(a).

NOTICE OF APPEAL RIGHTS²

You may obtain review of this final decision. 5 U.S.C. § 7703(a)(1). By statute, the nature of your claims determines the time limit for seeking such review and the appropriate forum with which to file. 5 U.S.C. § 7703(b). Although we offer the following summary of available appeal rights, the Merit Systems Protection Board does not provide legal advice on which option is most appropriate for your situation and the rights described below do not represent a statement of how courts will rule regarding which cases fall within their jurisdiction. If you wish to seek review of this final decision, you should immediately review the law applicable to your claims and carefully follow all filing time limits and requirements. Failure to file within the applicable time limit may result in the dismissal of your case by your chosen forum.

Please read carefully each of the three main possible choices of review below to decide which one applies to your particular case. If you have questions about whether a particular forum is the appropriate one to review your case, you should contact that forum for more information.

(1) Judicial review in general. As a general rule, an appellant seeking judicial review of a final Board order must file a petition for review with the U.S.

² Since the issuance of the initial decision in this matter, the Board may have updated the notice of review rights included in final decisions. As indicated in the notice, the Board cannot advise which option is most appropriate in any matter.

(2) Judicial or EEOC review of cases involving a claim of discrimination. This option applies to you only if you have claimed that you were affected by an action that is appealable to the Board and that such action was based, in whole or in part, on unlawful discrimination. If so, you may obtain judicial review of this decision—including a disposition of your discrimination claims—by filing a civil action with an appropriate U.S. district court (not the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit), within 30 calendar days after you receive this decision. 5 U.S.C. § 7703(b)(2); see Perry v. Merit Systems Protection Board, 582 U.S. 420 (2017). If you have a representative in this case, and your representative receives this decision before you do, then you must file with the district court no later than 30 calendar days after your representative receives this decision. If the action involves a claim of discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, or a disabling condition, you may be entitled to representation by a court-appointed lawyer and to waiver of any requirement of prepayment of fees, costs, or other security. See 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-5(f) and 29 U.S.C. § 794a.

You must file any such request with the EEOC's Office of Federal Operations within 30 calendar days after you receive this decision. 5 U.S.C. § 7702(b)(1). If you have a representative in this case, and your representative receives this decision before you do, then you must file with the EEOC no later than 30 calendar days after your representative receives this decision.

If you submit a request for review to the EEOC by regular U.S. mail, the address of the EEOC is:

Office of Federal Operations

This option applies to you only if you have raised claims of reprisal for whistleblowing disclosures under 5 U.S.C. § 2302(b)(8) or other protected activities listed in 5 U.S.C. § 2302(b)(9)(A)(i), (B), (C), or (D). If so, and your judicial petition for review “raises no challenge to the Board’s disposition of allegations of a prohibited personnel practice described in section 2302(b) other than practices described in section 2302(b)(8), or 2302(b)(9)(A)(i), (B), (C), or (D),” then you may file a petition for judicial review either with the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or any court of appeals of competent jurisdiction.³ The court of appeals must receive your petition for review within 60 days of the date of issuance of this decision. 5 U.S.C. § 7703(b)(1)(B).
