Attachment 1 – History of Changes
1 ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS

1.1 PURPOSE

This Manual has two main sections:

The first section describes the organization of the U.S. Merit Systems Protection Board (MSPB) under the operational levels of the Board, the Chairman, and the Executive Director*, and documents the assignment of agency functions. The Chairman, as the agency’s Chief Executive Officer, delegates overall responsibility for agency operations to the Executive Director. The Executive Director assigns responsibility for functions to agency offices and office heads. This section provides an overview of MSPB functions.

The second section outlines specific delegations of adjudicatory and administrative authorities.

The Office of the Clerk of the Board is responsible for maintaining this Manual. Requests for changes may be proposed by any office. The Office of the Clerk of the Board is also responsible for coordinating and clearing proposed changes with other offices and for incorporating any approved changes after consultation with the Executive Director.

1.2 OVERVIEW OF FUNCTIONS

The functions covered by this Manual are:

1.2.1 Legal, Enforcement, and Ministerial Functions

Legal and ministerial functions include functions that support the Board’s statutory adjudicatory mission -- such as regional preparation of initial decisions and orders, Office of Appeals Counsel/Office of the General Counsel preparation of draft decisions for the Board, enforcement of Board decisions, legal research, and creating and managing case files -- as well as litigation, legal advice, and other legal functions. Legal and ministerial functions are performed by the regional and field offices and the legal offices at headquarters including the Offices of Regional Operations, Administrative Law Judge, Appeals Counsel, General Counsel, and Clerk of the Board.

1.2.2 Studies and OPM Oversight Functions

Studies functions include research, surveys, analysis of findings, and preparation of reports for approval by the Board in connection with MSPB’s statutory merit systems studies authority. Studies functions are performed at headquarters by the Office of Policy and Evaluation. OPM

* The position of Executive Director is the same position as Chief of Staff. For ease of reference, however, only the title Executive Director is used in this document.
oversight functions include reviewing OPM regulations or the implementation of OPM regulations and taking action to enforce correction or termination of regulations that would require commission of a Prohibited Personnel Practice (PPP). In addition, MSPB reviews the significant actions of OPM and reports on the impact of these actions on Merit System Principles and PPPs. OPM oversight functions are performed by headquarters legal offices and by the Office of Policy and Evaluation.

1.2.3 Administrative and Management Support Functions

Administrative and management support functions include equal employment opportunity; human resources; procurement; budget; facilities and space management; accounting; coordination of security services for MSPB facilities and personnel; information technology; public information (including the MSPB website); Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) and Privacy Act compliance; mail room; records management; audits; MSPB strategic and performance planning, measurement, program evaluation, and performance reporting; congressional correspondence; legislative relations and analysis; and media relations. All headquarters offices and regional offices perform administrative and management functions to some degree, and, as enumerated elsewhere in this manual.

1.3 COORDINATION AND CLEARANCES

Offices must be aware of the need for coordination and clearance in the exercise of their functions. It is also important to keep other MSPB office functions in mind when dealing with external legislative offices and the media to ensure information consistency. The Office of the General Counsel should be consulted regarding congressional inquiries (except for case-related inquiries) and the Office of the Clerk of the Board should be consulted when preparing case statistics for distribution outside the agency and to coordinate media and public relations/information requests. Internally, changes in work flow and/or policies that would affect the operations of another office must be cleared with that office before such changes are sent to the Executive Director/Chairman for approval.
1.4 MSPB ORGANIZATION CHART

Throughout this Manual, “Board” refers to all three Board Members, and “MSPB” refers to the agency as an entity.

1.5 EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

The Executive Committee provides a forum for senior leadership to examine, consider, and recommend actions to the Board Chairman and/or Executive Director. Its scope includes internal procedures and general policies, cross-agency budget issues, and human resources issues. The Executive Director serves as the Chair of the Executive Committee, and the Clerk of the Board serves as the Vice Chair. The Executive Committee has four standing Subcommittees: Hiring; Knowledge Management; Safety and Security; and Training and Development. The Chair of the Executive Committee can authorize temporary working groups to examine special projects or unusual issues.

2 DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

This section sets forth MSPB delegations of authority for the adjudicatory, studies, and administrative functions of MSPB. Changes and amendments should be directed to OCB.

In an office that has a Deputy Director and for the Chief Administrative Judges (CAJ) in the New York and Denver field offices, the responsibilities of the Deputy or CAJ are, by design and intent, flexible. The Deputy or CAJ shares fully with the Director or Regional Director in the responsibility for carrying out all phases of the organization’s work. A Deputy or CAJ can be in charge of one or any combination of:
• Day-to-day operations;

• Supervisory responsibilities (approve leave and training; assign, monitor, and review work; meet with employees to develop performance plans; and rate and reward performance accomplishments, etc.);

• Planning, developmental, or special assignment work; and/or

• Technical work, etc.

Together, the Director and the Deputy or CAJ decide how they want the office to work; the Director makes appropriate delegations. If the organizational focus or management changes, these delegations may be altered at the discretion of the Director. Delegations are not typically reflected in position descriptions; however, they are to be documented in writing and communicated to staff.

Unless otherwise stated, delegations flow from the Chairman, through the Executive Director, and as necessary, to the office and regional directors. Deputy or CAJ positions assume the authority of the office director when “acting” for them. Otherwise, re-delegations by the office and regional directors should be in writing.

As used in this section, “judge” means: the Director, ORO; a Regional Director; a Chief Administrative Judge; or an administrative judge.

2.1 ORGANIZATION

This section is organized by subject matter. Adjudicatory delegations and studies delegations are in narrative form, while administrative delegations are in table form.

Requests and recommendations for updates and changes should be sent to OCB for coordination, review, and approval by the Chairman or the Executive Director, through the delegated authority of the Chairman.

2.2 COORDINATION

Offices must be aware of the need for coordination in the exercise of these delegations, e.g., development of regulations and agency-wide policy should be coordinated with OGC for legal sufficiency; Congressional distributions should be coordinated with the Legislative Counsel in OGC; media inquiries should be referred to/coordinated with OCB; issues with budget implications should be coordinated with the Budget Officer; etc.
2.3 ADJUDICATION DELEGATIONS

2.3.1 Purpose And Overview

The U.S. Merit Systems Protection Board exercises adjudicatory authorities that are vested by law in the three-member Board and, in certain instances, in the individual Board Members. The Board and the individual Board Members may delegate authorities as permitted by law. This section documents such delegations.

2.3.2 Adjudicatory Authorities And Delegations

The Board’s general adjudicatory authority is set forth at 5 U.S.C. § 1204(a). Additional adjudicatory authorities with respect to specific kinds of cases are set forth in other provisions of Title 5, as well as but not limited to, provisions in Title 3 (Presidential and Executive Office Accountability Act cases) and Title 38 (Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act cases). The Board’s delegations of its adjudicatory authorities may be effected through the issuance of regulations or internal orders, which are documented in this Manual.

2.3.2.1 Adjudicatory Authorities – Board or Chairman

If the Board determines that an OPM regulation is invalid on its face or invalidly implemented, the Board has the authority to require the agency to cease compliance with the OPM regulation and to correct any invalid implementation of the regulation. 5 U.S.C. §§ 1204(a)(4) and (f).

The Board delegates to an individual Board Member (in rotating order) the authority to grant a request for extension of a stay that has been granted to the Special Counsel -- except where the initial stay and any previously granted extensions total more than 120 days -- and to rule on any other stay-related matter. If the responsible Board Member finds that a request for extension of a stay should be denied, or if an initial stay and any previously granted extensions total more than 120 days, the request for extension must be voted on by the full Board. (“Joint Delegation” approved by the Board Members and contained in the Chairman’s memorandum of July 31, 1998.)
